When Godfrey, the Grand, so proudly came,

With his banners bright and oriflame, To the Adratic shore. See the "Grand Commander," with vigor down Who spares the king with his gittering crown, Unbought by the gold of the great; But his burntshed sabre by his side, The treachant tende his greatest pride,

Leaps forth for the good of the State. Now the "V. G. C." with noble mein, In silence precedes the selemn train, On his charger as black as night. Brect se the statue at Altort Gate,

Robed in his garments of high estate, With shield all burnished and bright. The "Sopa" move on, o'er the "rugged way," And the "Chancellar" comes with locks so gray

And flowing beard like snow; His brow is bound by a golden band, And the "coff of serpents" is in his hand-His steps are steady and slow. The band winds on its dirgo-like strain,

The conductor examines the midnight train. Its number, and its "condition," As if he sought to assertsin (If the torsin of was sounded again), Who would 'Join the expeditionit'

What have we here in their gave like dress, Like ghosts in their solemn dreariness. Beelde the moving bier! The the "Council of Ten" in "solemn conclave, With their stops so slow and faces grave,

And ever attentive car. Within the "circle" of the "Council of Ten" Site the Cardinal-oldest of living men-His "grand lewel" beaming bright, As he holds it aloft to his withered hand, At the" Grans Conductors's" stern command,

It sways in the torch's light. On his head to the crown of honor placed; That has never by Cardinal been disgraced, But kept in "good condition;" And, watching o'er all sits the Patriarch old, With his banner ready soon to unfold, Brothey join the "Expedition." New Albany, August 23, 1859.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. Contracts were executed in this city to-day, by the Western Union Telegraph Company, the Missouri River Telegraph, and the Missouri, Kansas & Utah Telegraph Company, by which the former Company have become con-tractors of all the Telegraph lines west of St. Louis; and arrangements are now in progress and ample means provided to extend the imes of the two latter Companies, under the general Superintendency of Charles M. Stebbins, from St. Louis to Fort Smith, 500 miles on the route of the Butterfield overland mail, and from St. Louis to Atchiason and Utah Territory. The latter is now in successful operation a distance of four hundred miles west of St. Louis. and the line to California via Fort Smith is good working order about three hundred miles west of St. Louis. By the latter line, which will soon open another section of about two hundred miles, the Associated Press will reseive very full reports of California news three or four days in advance of the arrival of the Overland Mail at St. Louis, and within the next few months it may reasonably be anticipated that the California and Utah lines will tome to the public, important sources for btaining intelligence.
